"Brain Factory"

SOUTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY
GEORGETOWN, TEXAS

DEDICATION

An integral part of Southwestern University is its tradition for shaping the paragons of Christian womanhood; embodying character, scholarship, charms, and leadership. These qualities have been set before us in an omnipresent, living example. In her we see every evidence of womanhood.

But deeper than, and above the superficial charm we find a tireless example, teacher, and friend.

To you, our paragon of womanhood, Dean Ruth Morgan Ferguson, we dedicate the 1955 Sou'Wester.

This is the place known as the "Brain Factory." Here the serious business of preparing immature minds to face the world is undertaken in a business like manner. But the whole business is made a little less horrible by greasing the wheels with laughter, and covering up the sharp edges with life-long friendships.

THE TAVERN

Here is the pulse beat of the brain factory, where students find relaxation under the care of Evelyn and Miz Gus, and forget their load of study while enjoying Skinny's corny jokes.

ASSEMBLIES

Sometimes entertainment presented by campus groups like this one by the Delta Omicron choir . . . .

The auditorium fills with talking, laughing students and fluttering attendance slips, announcements are made by students and faculty, the corny advertising skits are pulled off, and now, before the conglomeration of special meetings, we have the assembly program . . .

Sometimes special programs by off the campus groups or noted speakers . . . . .

And occasionally presentations by local civic groups.

ACTIVITIES

The Mask and Wig Players presented three productions to thrill Southwestern audiences. The first play, presented in the fall, was "The Velvet Glove." The next was Moliere's "Doctor In Spite Of Himself," presented to the Week-End-At-College visitors. The last production was the all-school brawl "Love Rides the Rails."

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Social life begins at Southwestern each year with the faculty-student reception where everyone says an informal "Howdy" to everyone else.

With decorations furnished by the social organizations, S.U. students welcome the ex's.

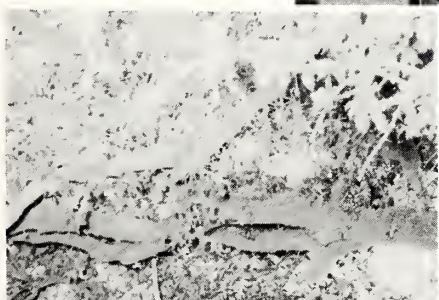

For Freshmen Only!
The Freshman Sock Hop provides the fish a chance to get away from it all and recover from their inferiority complexes.

Miss Southwestern and her court are presented at the Week-End-
At-College dance.

After pickin' up a million rocks on Rock-Pickin' Day, the student body turns out for a picnic.

HERE'S LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

Miss Fox and Mrs. Ferguson languish in jail, charged with major misdemeanors.

Students try out their throwing arms at the dunking booth and the head throw.

The carnival paraded features cars decorated by social organizations.

The Student Senate's Gypsy Street Carnival provided a festive evening of food, fun, and fellowship for S. U. students, after a week's hard work preparing the booths. Each Social organization provided a booth, and imaginations went wild. Aunt Jemima yummy pancakes were the crowning touch for the evening.

Crowds respond to the cries of the barkers.

Aunt Jemima adds her smile, and her pancakes, to the festivities.

Gypsy customers are the rule of the evening.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

President ..... Bobby Lundgren

Vice-President ..... Harry Davis

Secretary ..... Nancy Hamilton

Our Photographer caught the officers in one of their lighter moments, but when the fun is over these officers settled down to the arduous job of maintaining a democratic and representative student government. Elected by the entire student body, they are outstanding in leadership and school spirit.

STUDENT SENATE

The smiles of the student senators, elected from their classes, are probably from one of Harry Davis' priceless puns, but they could be because of a rare unanimous decision. The fiery senatorial debates of the school legislative body usually end, however, in successful all school activities.

Nancy Hamilton.

Freshman Senators:

Peggy Powell, Winston Lester, Paul Medley.

Sophomore Senators:

Lou Birdwell, David Hardy, Buddy Ross, Don Fagin.

The campus arbitrators are meeting here for the more pleasant business of picture taking, but the routine meeting entails the tedious job of trying to keep the honor standard of the students at Southwestern as high as the scholarship standard.
